

Linda's Monthly Friendly Tip

November 2017

Well, here we are just about getting into winter. How did this years' golf season go by so quickly? Time flies when you're having fun. Don't go into hibernation with your game. This is the perfect time to really improve your scoring and golfing skills.

What do YOU need to work on? The answer I get most often is "Consistency". Consistency with what? Your swing, your contact, your aim and alignment, your accuracy? Usually one thing leads to the other and the other and the other. What you really need to do is sit down and have a realistic talk with yourself. Unfortunately, we don't get this through osmosis – you actually have to do some work and put some "Sweat Equity" into your game in order to get the results you are seeking. And NOW is the perfect time to do it.

Would you like to surprise your golfing buddies with a new, improved game come next spring?

Please come see me and let's develop a specific program for you to work on over the late fall and winter months. Let's take a look at what's going on in your game in order to pinpoint what you need to work on in order to achieve the desired results. Changes take time, and you've got LOTS of time over the late fall and winter to make any needed adjustments to your game.

I want you to have FUN and look forward to getting out there to play. And, believe me, it's a lot more fun when you have good accuracy, along with a killer short game. (Bam!!! There it is. Short Game, Short Game, Short Game.) I can help you with all the elements of your game that need improvement in order to score better. We can also do video of your swing to help you "See" what's really going on. Sometimes your perception of your swing is quite different from what is really happening. Let us help you analyze your swing motion.

We are offering our Winter Lesson Special: Ten 30 minute private lessons for $299.00 (that's over $100.00 off our regular lesson prices!) This Special starts in November.

All lessons must be completed by April 1st. This means you have plenty of time to get those lessons in. You can use them as Five 1 Hour lessons if you prefer. Sometimes I have 2 people share the lesson package. It's up to you – But PLEASE take advantage of this great offer.

It would make a great Holiday Gift or just a special gift for the avid golfer or beginning golfer.

Let us help you take your game to new heights – We're Always here for YOU!

Take care – and, as always – "Swing Happy".
